PRODUCER SHOWCASE: LAKE'S FOLLY

Established in 1963 by Doctor Max Lake, Lake's Folly was the first new vineyard in the Hunter Valley in the last century. In early 2000 Lake's Folly was purchased by Peter and Lee Fogarty and family who, along with Hunter-born and bred winemaker, Rodney Kempe, have continued to maintain the integrity and direction of this significant vineyard.

The two flagship wines, a Cabernet blend and a Chardonnay, are made in limited quantities and are grown, vintaged, and made on the estate. The wine styles are restrained and elegant, showing finesse and complexity. They have clarity of structure and great length of flavour.

Cabernet

1997 Wet vintage 320

Lighter, finer style, lacking a little mid palate weight, but lovely structure and length of flavour. A touch Burgundian. Some slightly shaded fruit characters (similar to some Coonawarra Cabs), but dominated by Hunter – leather, tobacco, earth

1998 Hot and dry vintage, but very good 350

Wonderful. Perfect balance of fruit sweetness and savoury balance. Complex, interesting wine of considerable pedigree. Ripe tannins and careful oak usage creates an almost perfect wine. Outstanding!

1999 Very Good Vintage 365

Savoury, stylish and youthful, the tannins have settled down considerably on this wine – now fine-grained and chewy. Primary fruits of blackberry are still evident, but beginning to give way to more complexed bottle development. Remarkably good drinking at present considering in its mid-life phase, this wine will of course improve further and drink magnificently in another 35 years+.
